Greetings from the North Pole!

November 2020

How are you? I hope you are well and have been good! The North Pole is buzzing with activity and excitement! The Elves have been very busy wrapping gifts, and have already begun loading the sleigh ready for Christmas.

Last year, you were specially selected to have a Magic Elf come to stay with your family. Your Elf told me what a great time he had and asked if he could come back again this year. Of course, I agreed, and he will be back with you soon. As before, he will stay with you until Christmas Eve, when I will collect him as I'm passing through your town to deliver presents.

Your Elf has again been given the special task of checking if you are doing your best to be good, and will report back to me with any acts of kindness or naughtiness. I do hope he won't get up to too much mischief!

I hope you have a wonderful time together and enjoy counting down to Christmas Day.

Lots of love from

Santa xx

I'm back! How are you? What a long year! I've missed you so much and I'm so pleased Santa agreed to let me stay with you again until Christmas Eve. Let's have some fun!

As before, I have been given the important task of checking if you are still doing your best to be good and kind. I have a special report card to fill in to let Santa know if you're being naughty or nice.

I'm so excited about staying with you. I just know we will be best friends forever!

This is going to be the best Christmas!

Love

It's nearly Christmas Day! How exciting! Thank you so much for letting me stay with you and your family for the last few weeks. I have had so much fun, I hope you have too.

You have tried really hard to be good, well done. I hope you have liked the little gifts I have left for you and I hope you have enjoyed finding out what mischief I have been up to each morning!

Christmas Eve means it's time for me to go back to the North Pole to see my family and friends. Best of all, I get to travel in Santa's sleigh all the way home!

I am really going to miss you, but let's not be sad. We can remember all our happy times together.

Wishing you the happiest Christmas
Love
